"The owner of this new home, Linda, had a very clear view of how she wanted her brand-new dream kitchen to look, which was seamless and all flush," says Geoff Cummins of Cummins Kitchens & Bathrooms of this project. Because he had to work with limited space, Geoff's design for the kitchen had to maximise storage.

A crisp, clean look was created courtesy of White on White satin polyurethane doors and panels with matching kickboards, tiled floors, fully integrated appliances and the island bench of sleek CaesarStone 40mm Organic White with waterfall ends.

Sandblasted veneer doors in Laminex Luxe Ebony on the pantry wall surrounding the side-by-side refrigerator add contrast and a dark element to the otherwise white palette.

There's also a host of modern touches incorporated into the seamless design, such as the selection of stainless-steel appliances, shadowline handles and the mirrored glass splashbacks to give a sense of space. Undoubtedly, the star of the show is the delicate modern pendant light, which hangs over the island for the finishing touch.

Is this the kitchen that dreams are made of? The owner certainly thinks so — and who could disagree?

The kitchen was designed by owner Linda Ayshan with the help of Geoff Cummins and built by CUMMINS KITCHENS & BATHROOMS 1 Lorraine Street, Peakhurst NSW 2210
